OUR Hometown

Oxford, Ohio is a close-knit, small-town community with creative arts, miles of hiking trails, and a nationally ranked university. As of the 2021 Census, there are around 23,000 people calling Oxford “Home” which includes some of the 19,000 students attending Miami University in undergraduate and graduate programs. We’re lucky to enjoy the perks of a bustling campus community year-round with the high energy school semesters and laid-back summer months.

Come enjoy our picturesque town, complete with historic buildings, local businesses, twinkle lights, community-wide festivals and events, and a friend or neighbor at every turn. Whether you’re a visitor, a new resident, or a townie who’s called Oxford home your whole life, we’re happy to have you here. We’re a town with something for everyone. We hope you stay a while!

Oxford is also home to the beautiful campus of Miami University, a nationally ranked, original Public Ivy. For 10 years running, Miami has been ranked as one of the top 10 universities in the nation for its commitment to teaching undergraduates.

Not a student at Miami University? Not a problem! Miami provides entertainment for students and nonstudents alike, from lectures to theatrical performances. Getting active on campus is a great way to meet new people and stay engaged in the community. This impressive college is an integral part of our town. Take advantage of all it has to offer!

Miami University is named for the Miami River valley, within the traditional homelands of the Miami and Shawnee people. Sharing a common name, place, and commitment to education, Miami University and the Miami Tribe of Oklahoma have built a 51-year relationship based on collaboration, trust, and respect.

At the heart of this partnership is the Myaamia Center – the research arm of the Tribe. Located on the university's Oxford campus, the center is internationally known for its language and cultural revitalization work.

In 2021, Daryl Baldwin, director of the Myaamia Center, was nominated by President Biden and confirmed by the U.S. Senate to become a member of the National Council on the Humanities.

Today, more than 40 Myaamia students attend Miami University where they learn Myaamia language, history, and culture as part of the Myaamia Heritage Program.

There are a number of myaamia spaces and items across the university's Oxford campus. You can explore them on this self-guided walking tour:

Follow the Myaamia Center on Facebook and Twitter @MyaamiaCenter

One & Only EATS

Supporting local is an Oxford pride and joy – especially when it tastes this good! Experience Pub-Grub, Asian, German, Greek, Mexican, Irish, Indian, and Italian cuisine, all within the span of a mile, thanks to our locally-owned restaurants. This is small-town dining with global flavor! Start your day with a cup of joe at Kofenya Coffee or fluffy pancakes from Patterson's, and grab one of the 90 specialty steamed bagels from the legendary Bagel & Deli for lunch. Test your spice limits at Krishna, or carb load on some famous mac bites from Mac & Joe's. A day isn't complete without dessert, so stop at Spring Street Treats for something sweet.

HAPPY HOUR & Night Life

Fun in Oxford surely doesn't stop after the sun goes down. We are a college town, after all! Enjoy a night out at The Oxford Pub, aka The O'Pub. Between Tuesday trivia nights, Thursday live music, and an outstanding drink selection, you're guaranteed a great time. Feeling fancy? Cru Gastro Lounge is the perfect place to sip and chat over a bottle of wine.

Guten Tag! Steinkeller's German Bier Hall features over 22 different imported beers. As you descend the stairs and step inside, you'll find yourself suddenly transported into an authentic Bavarian beer hall. Take authenticity to a whole other level by trying their schnitzel or biergarten pretzel that will have you saying "heiliger strohsack"! (Holy smokes!)

ANNUAL FESTIVALS & EVENTS

Red Brick Nights
Uptown

Maybe you've always figured that the charming small towns filled with themed events and tight-knit communities only exist on the Hallmark channel. Oxford is proof that they are real! Between our Uptown Music Concert Series, Red Brick Nights, Wine & Craft Beer Festival, Oxtoberfest, and much more, you're sure to live out your movie moment. Our furry friends deserve to feel like the main character, too, so be sure to take them for a doggy dip at the end of our summer pool season. The best part of our community events is that you're bound to see friends at each and every one.
